The Catalog of U.S. Government Publications (CGP) will be undergoing authority control processing of over 51,000 records beginning today, February 23, 2009. The task is expected to take approximately three weeks. During this time, only new records will be added to the CGP database. GPO expects to resume updates beginning March 16, 2009. Requests for updates to bibliographic records through the askGPO service cannot be processed during this time. Update requests will be handled as soon as the authority control process is completed.
